

The most unaffected rock star ever, Van Morrison (in the Irish group Them) had already hit the charts in 1965 with the classic "Gloria." The next year Them broke up, and Morrison went solo, going decidedly uncommercial for the next three decades. While becoming an album orientated muse, he still hit the charts on occasion, most notably with this genuine rock classic, which went Top Ten in 1967

Brown Eyed Girl

AS RECORDED BY VAN MORRISON

1 (4) (6)

A (8X) (8X) (8X)

10

B (8X) (8X) (8X)

13

C

RIDE

16

HH

20

24

D 7X 8X 10X

28

32

REPEAT & FADE

Transcribed by James Morton • classic-rock-drum-charts.com